

City And County Voters Selecting Party Candidates At Polls

ROGERS FINDS ONE FAMOUS BROMIDE IS NOW EXPLODED

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 17.—The old bromide about the south "is still fighting the Civil War" don't hold up so good. It was suggested to the northern boys at their reunion the other day that they hold a joint reunion with the southerners.

Will, they just pulled out their whisks and started firing 'em at the suggester. Said they would "never meet 'em" till the south admitted they was wrong, so that is one merger that is off indefinitely. The north got all the pensions and the post offices, they don't need anything else.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Election day! A few more hours to go. If you haven't cast your vote, hurry to the polls at once and exercise your right to ballot. Every good citizen should!

Bankers of New Castle, Ellwood and other districts from afar off will go to different Lawrence county farms tomorrow and inspect the crops, study conditions, and hear experts speak. The tour will last through the afternoon, culminating with a dinner at the Big Beaver Grange hall.

The writer heard of a man, recently, who was doing his own cooking while his wife was away on her vacation. He decided he would have a real treat, so he killed a chicken for his dinner. He cooked this chicken with all its accessories—except its feathers! At the first bite, he decided something was wrong, and that his dog looked hungry. So he gave it to the dog. Since that time, he said, the dog gets up and walks away if anyone attempts to feed him chicken!

While election day dawned rather bleak and dreary, with rain threatening, it cleared up during the morning and the day wasn't at all unpromising towards the middle of the morning.

Report of the registration in the city this fall as announced yesterday shows that a good job of reelecting was made when the precincts were divided since the last election. The registration seems to be about evenly divided over the city at the present time.

"It's more than election day to the army of teachers in the public schools and the city employees. It is the regular pay day. This is the first pay day of the year for the school teachers."

Word from Attorney Homer Drake, who has been in Denver attending the Spanish War Veterans convention, is to the effect that weather out there has been rather cool, snow falling one day recently.

Looks a lot like fall is near at hand, from the number of trucks seen backed up to the curb unloading coal.

Return to New Castle of Rev. C. G. Farr as district superintendent of the Methodist churches in the New Castle district is pleasing to New Castle citizens. Rev. Farr was a most popular pastor here in this city.

There are certain regulations which every one is supposed to follow in regard to the American flag and one of these is that the flag should be taken in at sundown. There is a certain gasoline service station, on South Jefferson street, it is reported, that has never taken in the flag at that place since it was put out some time ago.

Another street that has been improved is Shenango street. That part of it running past the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot has been resurfaced.

Early Ballotting Is Rather Light; See Rush Later

Candidates For City And County Offices Are Being Selected

LOCAL ELECTIONS ARE STATE WIDE

Bitter Contests Occur In Pittsburgh And Philadelphia Primaries

At noon today the battle of ballots was beginning to show some signs of life in New Castle and the voters were increasing in numbers at the various polls. The early morning vote was not large, but the sun breaking through the clouds seemed to bring out the vote. Party candidates for city and county offices are being named.

Of the 11,000 odd votes registered this time, it was estimated that 2500 votes had found their way into the tin boxes. However this should not be taken as an indication of the total vote for the afternoon and early evening hours will find a rush of voters crowding the polls.

The fact that the polls did not open until eight o'clock Daylight Savings time meant that many men and women who ordinarily voted on their way to work have to wait until noon or this evening.

Workers Out
The usual number of workers' automobiles are scouting the city, hauling voters to the polls and at the polls time meaning that many men and women who ordinarily voted on their way to work have to wait until noon or this evening.

No disturbance was seen at any poll, nor where there any violations of the election laws reported at noon. Apparently this primary is to be a quiet one, with voters doing their duty and then leaving. Reports from the county indicate what a good sized vote is being polled.

The polls do not close until eight o'clock Daylight Savings Time.

Nominating In State
Voters throughout Pennsylvania today went to the polls to cast their ballots for the selections for nomination on the various tickets for state, county and city offices.

With the exception of nominations for judge of the superior court, all other elections were of a sectional nature. On the Republican ticket, William H. Keller, of Lancaster county, and Thomas J. Baldridge of Blair county are unopposed for the nomination as the voters are required to vote for two candidates. The Democratic candidates for nomination were also unopposed.

The most bitterly contested primaries are being waged in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh where opposing forces have dealt in personalities during the past ten days to a great extent. A minor riot resulted in Pittsburgh when voters presented tax receipts which had been declared by court order to have been fraudulently issued, in an effort to show their right to cast a ballot. Arguments resulted in fist fights which were quelled by police.

Up to noon there had been no reports of serious disturbances in Philadelphia although it was believed that serious trouble might develop between the pro-Vare and anti-Vare forces in that city.

Other districts of the state reported balloting proceeding in an orderly fashion, although a number of sectional contests have been hotly conducted during the closing days of the campaign.

Registration In McKeesport Same As In New Castle

New Castle and McKeesport are almost parallel cities in the matter of registration records.

One year ago McKeesport had about 14,000 registered for the presidential election. This year between 11,000 and 12,000 registered.

These are the same figures that stand for New Castle last year and this year.

NEWS WILL BULLETIN RETURNS

Arrangements have been made by The News for bulletining returns of today's primary election in New Castle and Lawrence county in Mercer street at The News office, tonight. As the primary election is being held under eastern standard time, the polls will not be closed until 8 o'clock daylight savings time, and it will be along about 9 o'clock before returns will begin to come in, it can be expected. The News telephone exchange, No. 4000, will also be operating this evening for giving and receiving returns.

Recent Fraudulent Registration Stirrs Pittsburgh; Estimate 20,000 Lose Votes

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—Hordes of workers for Malone, Kline and Martin camps swarmed around the polling places today as Pittsburgh's Republican voters went forth to select candidates for mayor and a dozen or more other offices. Democratic voters, also participated in the primary today, of course, but their voting was done so unobtrusively that little attention was attracted their way, save for the singular fact that personalities played but a small part in the campaign, mostly because Thomas A. Dunn, is unopposed for the mayoralty nomination. (Continued On Page Two) Saracena was held once before for the disappearance of the men, who left here June 13, presumably with a load of whiskey. Since then, they were never seen nor heard from until two huntsmen, Pete Robinson and Kingsley Wilson of Tidouite, happened upon their bodies.

Smaller Powers Are Adamant In Naval Reducing

Differences Between Great Britain And United States Not To Be Settled Till January

ITALY, FRANCE AND JAPAN DISPLEASED

Believe Smaller Nations Will Ask For New Ratios At London

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The sole remaining difference between Great Britain and the United States in their naval negotiations—involving whether the American navy is to have 18 or 21 cruisers mounting 8-inch guns—probably will not be settled outside the five-power conference to be held in January. Settlement of this point, it was explained today, is dependent upon what the other powers, Japan, France and Italy demand in the way of cruiser ratios. Not Satisfied. Already there have been warnings from Paris, Tokyo and Rome that the smaller powers are not going to be content with the ratios assigned to them at Washington eight years ago. Those ratios were 3 for Japan and 1.6 each for France and Italy, as compared to 5 each for Great Britain and the United States. In any event, it was emphasized here today that the difference between Great Britain and the United States will not be permitted to jeopardize the success of the conference. The real danger to the conference does not lie in British-American differences, but in the willingness or unwillingness of Japan, France and Italy to "go along" in the program of auxiliary ship limitation. Great Britain's naval policy has traditionally been predicated upon what a possible combination of powers might stand against her, and if France and Italy insist upon maintaining a force of cruisers, submarines (Continued On Page Two)

"Sheik Slayer" Sits Beside Mother In Courtroom; "Post Mistress" Present

COURT HOUSE, WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Juror number eight, Samuel Griffin, a chief draftsman of Montrose, New York, was selected shortly before noon today at the trial of Earl F. Peacock, 22-year-old radio mechanic, for the murder of his pretty young wife, Dorothy, whom he strangled to death on the night of April 21, last, the first anniversary of their marriage. Indications were that the jury which will decide the fate of Peacock will be "blue ribbon" in its makeup. Already in the jury box are men of a high type, a silk manufacturer, a retired grocer, a builder, a piano maker and two mechanics. Peacock evidently was picking his own jury. Several times when it seemed a juror was about to be rejected, the defendant was consoled by his lawyer and promptly submitted acceptance. Once Peacock shook his head vigorously and said audibly, "No, no!" Sits Beside Mother. The boyish looking defendant sat beside his mother, Mrs. Catherine Peacock, at defense counsel table. She kissed him when she came in but afterwards they had nothing to say to each other. Miss Carrie Winter, 21 years old, of Bronxville, a former friend of the slain Dorothy Peacock, came into court (Continued On Page Two)

Agriculture To Get Protection From New Tariff

Question Of Giving Agriculture Adequate Protection Overshadows All Issues

SEEKING VOTE ON "LABEL CLAUSE"

Senators Borah And Reed Take Opposite Sides In Tariff Conflict

By WILLIAM K. METCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The question of giving agriculture adequate tariff protection overshadowed all other issues in the Senate today as administration leaders tried to speed up consideration of the administrative features of the new bill. Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, raised a direct issue with Republican writers of the measure over the amount of protection given agriculture. He charged the bill failed to secure the home markets for American farmers and thereby failed to carry out the pledges of both parties in the 1928 presidential campaign. Read Defends. Republican spokesmen, led by Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, defended the measure, declaring agriculture had been granted every request within reason for higher rates on farm products. Reed asserted the new rates would give the farmer control of the home markets "insure a tariff bill can do it." He also admitted that the higher rates on farm products would "increase the cost of living" because their purpose was to "give the farmer greater income." This argument, in which a dozen senators joined, indicated there will be a battle over the farm schedule when it is reached. Heretofore both Republican and Democratic spokesmen have indicated the new farm rates would be approved by the Senate without a struggle, while tariff warfare would be confined to the presidential campaign.

OVER THREE HUNDRED PERSONS HOMELESS

Three Persons Missing, Fate Unknown; 7,000 Acres Of Timber Already Consumed

(International News Service)
SANTA PAULA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Sweeping uncontrolled down Santa Paula Canyon, one of the worst forest fires in Southern California history today had razed the homes of 300 men, women and children and had caused damage estimated at more than $2,000,000. Three persons are missing and their fate is unknown. The fire, believed to have started from a high tension electric line at Santa Paula Mineral Springs, five miles north of here, swept over 7,000 acres along a five-mile front. Eleven oil derricks and a 11,000 barrel oil storage tank were ignited and spread flaming destruction over part of Ventura county. Blazing asphalt roads blocked fire fighters from making their way in or out of the Sulphur Mountain region between Santa Paula and Ojai. Men and autoists were conscripted within a radius of fifty miles to fight the blaze. Many volunteers suffered injuries in battling the fire.

She was then towed out into the harbor, where the blaze was extinguished with a loss of $30,000.

To have their say, out to help select their man for this Election Day. The women folks have voted and the men will vote tonight, and in every case I take it, they believe they're voted right. They want to put some good man in, there's plenty they can choose, and some will win and wear a smile, and some will cry the blues. It is the day for citizens to name the lad they wish, and voting is their favorite sport, their most liked civic dish. Now if you haven't been there yet, and had your little say, get out and vote before the night, it's seventy-two today.

ATTHIRD U. P. CHURCH

Baskets of calendulas and zinnias formed a lovely decoration for the dinner given Monday evening by the officers and teachers of the Third United Presbyterian.

A banquet was served at 6:30 by Section A of the Y. L. B. class. Covers were arranged for forty. The pep singing was led by Willard McCowan.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held in charge of the general superintendent, G. H. Colnot. Reports were given by cabinet members and a reading by Helen Kyle.

The principal address of the evening was given by Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church. Rev. Landis gave a most interesting talk on "The Qualifications of a Good Teacher."

Autumn flowers formed a colorful decoration for the dinner given Monday evening by the members of the Philaetha Bible class of the First Baptist Sunday school, taught by Rev. H. G. Woodrow.

The dinner was served in the church dining room at 6:30. Covers were arranged for twenty. The committee in charge included Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Howard Zeigler and Mrs. Ed McKibben. Mrs. McCleary and daughter were special guests.

At the conclusion of the dinner a business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Jane Patterson, presiding. New officers were elected. They were: President, Mrs. Howard Zeigler; vice-president, Mrs. Winifred Baldwin; Mrs. John Stoner, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Cook, secretary; and Mrs. Lester Smith, treasurer.

The next meeting will be held on October 21 at the home of Mrs. John Stoner of Maryland Avenue.

A most enjoyable corn and weiner roast was staged by the members of the L. A. B. Club at the home of Mrs. Eva L. Baker of Warren Avenue last night. The color scheme for the evening was worked out in pink and white, and garden flowers beautified the home. Music, games and social chat comprised the evening's entertainment.

A committee, with Mrs. William Jones chairman, Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. MacNicklas and Mrs. Shaffer, was in charge. The following guests were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sines and Mrs. James Kerr and son, Junior, of New Castle; Mrs. Amelia Coyne of DuBois; Mrs. Ada W. Dickey of Clinton, Ia.; Mrs. Carl Smith of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sweet, Mrs. George Price and daughter and Mrs. F. Y. Baker of Niles, O.

The next meeting of the L. A. B. Club will occur on September 27 at the home of Mrs. William Jones of Winslow Avenue.

Another Yak Slipping.
Wise Frenchmen.
Crying Does No Good.
Shooting Into A Truck-load.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

Nicholas Roerich, in "Alta Himalaya," describing a powerful Yak slipping on a high glacier toward the precipice, says "at the very edge of precipice, the Yak, training himself, clutched down with his short, strong feet."

The Yak was saved.
May Uncle Sam be as fortunate on the diplomatic glacier of Geneva. At this moment he is slipping rapidly toward the World Court precipice and at any moment he may go over the edge. Clever British statesmen, assisted by able American lawyers representing him along.

"At any time you may withdraw from the court without imputation of unfrindliness," says the League to Uncle Sam.
That is what card sharps on trains or steamships say inviting you into a game.

France and Italy, Latin nations, dislike the close co-operation of the so-called Nordic nations, Britain and America. While MacDonald is in America talking over naval agreements and freedom of the seas, Italy and France will have a separate naval conference.

Britain asks France to abandon submarines. The whole French, free of Anglo-mania obsession that afflicts some of our officials reply:
"No, we need submarines, with a small fleet under water, we can, in case of need, take care of all your ships afloat. So we keep the submarines."

France, like America, is self supporting. If anything is lacking, France can get it from adjoining neighbors independent of shipping.
Britain is not self-supporting and would starve without surface fleets to feed her. Perhaps that is why Britain is building gigantic Zepplins. They could bring food through the air.

France has not forgotten that the Nelson monument was built to commemorate French defeat at sea, and means not to let it happen again.
Submarines and airplanes will easily attend to that.

An American government, run for the United States, and not to please the British, or British-American bankers, will see that this nation is protected, as France means to be protected.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, important among Democratic presidential possibilities, rather remote possibilities just now, gives an imitation of one crying in the wilderness. He is alarmed by "the menace of the Morgan power deal in New York," expected to control 80 per cent of the state's power.

Crying will do no good. We live in the age of mergers, and government by corporations—benevolent corporations, on the whole. If you let them have what they want.

Mergers will grow bigger and bigger. All power will be under various names and one control eventually. And that includes money power, as well as hydraulic and other physical power. Great banks are merging, as rapidly as power companies.

It is the movement of the age, industrial feudalism, as predicted by Charles Fourier 125 years ago. Dollars that keep themselves and earn interest replace soldiers that had to be fed and clothed.

The only alternative is government management, and the government agrees that it is not honest or capable enough for the job. However, everything remains in the country, and the people can always use their judgment, if they happen to have any.

Russia's effort to plant Communism in China is no more of a failure than a Northern effort to plant Communism, or even powerful labor unionism in the South.

The South thinks it wants more Northern capital, more factories, more employment, and objects to anything that would discourage Northern capital.

A truckload of all age Communists, driving to a meeting of protest in Gastonia, N. C., were stopped by armed men in automobiles and ordered to turn back.

They obeyed, the automobiles and armed men following them. The truck ran into an automobile unintentionally. The collision annoyed the law and order men, and a volley was fired into the truck.

Twenty men and women on it scattered in all directions, leaving one of their number dead on the road.
The dead one was Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, mother of four young children.

Your may say that a mother of four children should not go riding with a truckload of Communists.
She might say that she should have been warned that her life was in danger.

The incident has created "a painful impression." But the fact appears plain that North Carolina will not tolerate Communism, or anything that North Carolina calls Communism.

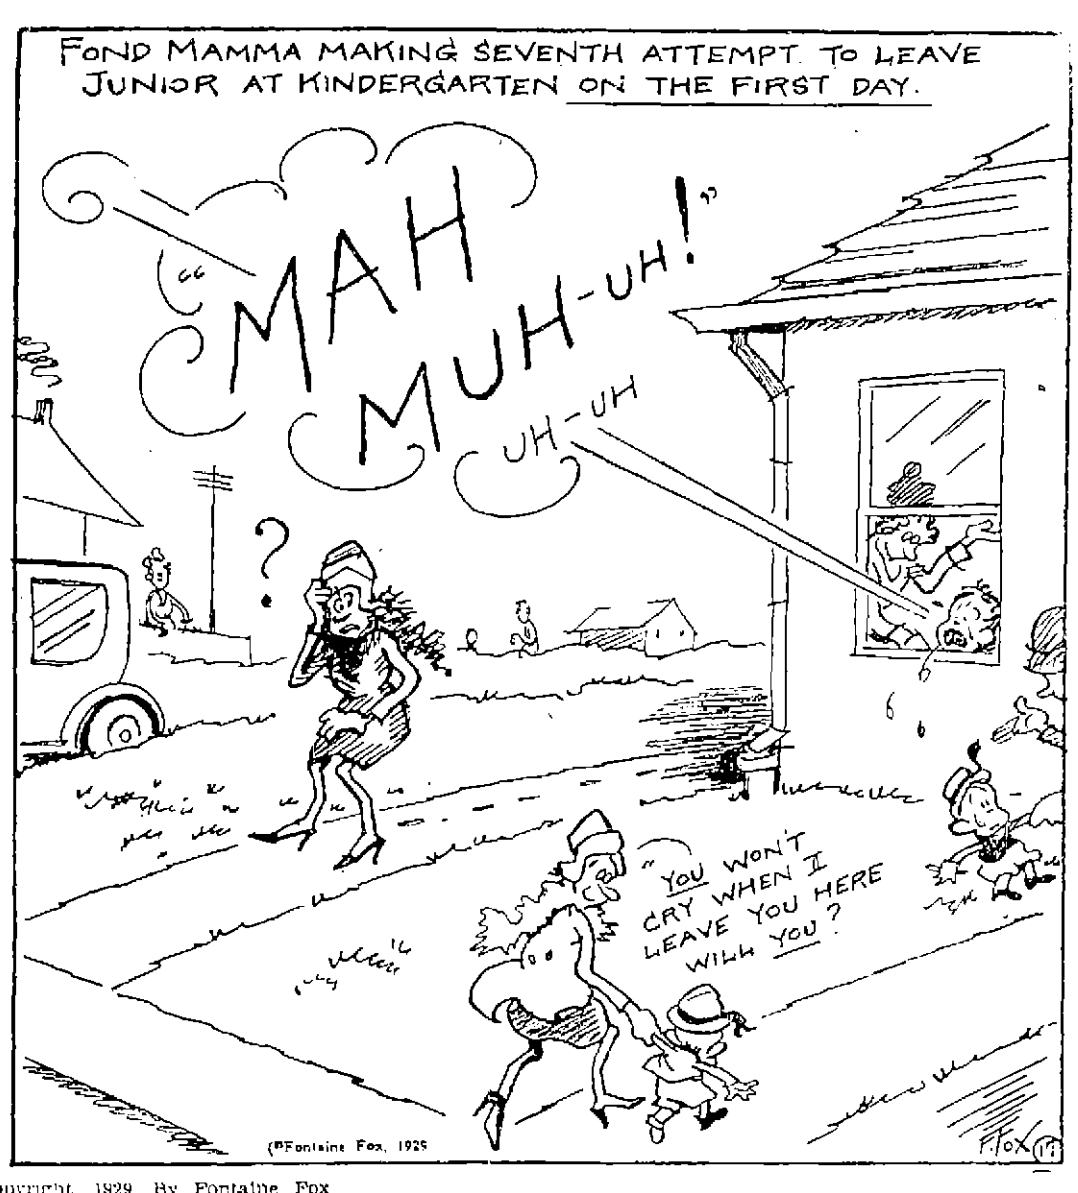

One nice thing about an automobile is that it makes your spare time so valuable, if you don't mind doing your own repairs and washings.

One of life's jokes is that the people who scoff at materialism are often living beyond their incomes.

It is an admitted fact that no modern business could survive a single year if it were conducted as a single one of our towns and counties. Chorus Of Approving Comment On Hoover's First Six Months

With Few Exceptions Press Appraises Record Favorably Although It Is Recognized Real Tests Are To Come

With extraordinary unanimity the press appraises favorably President Hoover's record during his six months in the White House, though acclaim is withheld by those who feel that, as phrased by the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD, the President is "still an experiment."

"The belief widespread that the Hoover administration will make a record of brilliant achievement," declares the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES (Ind. Rep.), "THE ROCHESTER DEMOCRAT and CHRONICLE (Rep.), holding that 'one need only scan the record of his administration to date to see that the confidence in the President as a prodigious worker and a genius in organization rests upon a secure basis.'"

"Hoover, never garrulous, has the Coolidge gift for preserving his own counsel when he wishes. But from what has been heard and the way in which it has been done, the country is justified in feeling that its high administration for its new President will be warranted by the events."

"Only time will tell, by the accomplishments of the first half year point to a great constructive administration," says the KANSAS CITY STAR (Ind.), with the further comment: "The analysis of President Hoover's methods and policies, as disclosed in the first six months of his administration, reveals chief executive of high purposes, of unusual ability and of restless energy. There is no question that there is a driving force in Washington such as has not been there since Roosevelt's day. There is no question, too, of the capacity and experience directing this force."

"There is no little of positive achievement to his credit, even though the nature of the things he has done is for the most part preliminary," in the opinion of the ASHEVILLE TIMES (Ind. Dem.), which concludes: "All Mr. Hoover's life training has been in the field of finding facts and setting action to them. He adds to this equipment many of the traits of the statesman of lofty ideals for the improvement of social and economic conditions in the world. He is not too of compromise in the political field; he understands the virtue of a half loaf when a whole loaf is inaccessible. The American people elected him in the confidence that he would go far as a world leader. And so many ideals knowing how to use his power for action, thus moves forward to meet the sterner tests ahead of him."

"Plans have been made in many directions, looking toward the progress of the nation and the public welfare," states the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.). "But like other Presidents, Hoover has been compelled to move slowly and to make some of the compromises a high political office dictates. He may look forward, however, with the feeling that he enjoys a large degree of public confidence. If part of the public today expects a little less than it did on March 4 it is because it realizes in its calmer moments that operating and administering a four billion dollar political corporation is different from the conduct of private business and from the feeding of Europe's refugees."

In considering that the President still is "an experiment," the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD (Ind.) says: "Something of historical importance has occurred in these six months—the party of the President has developed a greater amount of insubordination than has been seen since the first six months of Mr. Taft's Administration, which resulted in the loss of the House to the Administration for two years. The bitterness of the insurgent group is more intense, perhaps, than was that led by Doolittle and Beveridge twenty years ago. Six months have shown that the President is the leader not of his party but of the dominant faction of it. We must await the conclusion of the tariff fight to learn whether he is to lead that dominant faction to victory."

It is rather remarkable, really an unusual thing, remarks the UTICA COURIER-DISPATCH (Ind.), "for a President to get along so well in the first six months with as little criticism as has attended the Hoover administration."

"Political opponents and calamity howlers may yet have a chance. Perhaps Mr. Hoover may make a slip. It seems scarcely likely that he can keep up the pace of big accomplishments. Give him time and plenty of rope. He may yet do something over which to hold his head."

"So long as Mr. Hoover remains public favor," thinks the INDIANAPOLIS STAR (Ind. Rep.), "the attitude of the politicians is largely immaterial, as they must govern themselves in accordance with the general sentiment. So far there has been no diminution of the President's popularity. His record, therefore, is eminently satisfactory from a political point of view."

THE CHATTANOOGA NEWS (Ind. Dem.) believes that "he has grown in the public estimation and enjoys the confidence of the country," and points out that "the first six months have been marked by international as well as national reforms."

Reviewing the various items in his record, the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS (Ind. Dem.) quotes a statement that he is a "practical idealist," with the comment that "two predecessors, Roosevelt and Wilson, also were conspicuous as practical idealists" and that "in many respects Mr. Hoover has shown himself—even this early—more practical than either."

THE ST. LOUIS CITY JOURNAL (Rep. Ind.) says of his qualities: "He is a man of decisive action, yet he will take all the time necessary in reaching a decision. Perhaps he has well learned the proverb to make haste slowly in some things. As time goes on—there will be three and one-half years more of Hooverism in the White House and maybe another term after this one—this highly efficient executive is expected to set a record for administrative work and for general national advancement."

"He seemed to know instinctively what was before him and how to attack the job," declares the LOS ANGELES EVENING EXPRESS (Rep.), adding that the six months "has been a period of surprising accomplishment."

"Of course, no President can be judged by the first six months," concludes the LEXINGTON LEADER (Ind. Rep.). "Mr. Hoover has three years and six months before him. Not until the close of his first three years, at any rate, can any final judgment be passed. However, the trends are visible. It can be seen where Mr. Hoover is going. He has given the key to his policy in general to the spirit of his stewardship, and indicated clearly in broad lines what he hopes to accomplish." The Leader finds that public confidence has been won in appointments, economy, the law-enforcement commission, agricultural relief, and various other moves from the White House.

THEY STUDY US ALSO.
Now that the Diary of Lawrence A. Wilson has been published in The News, it may be interesting to know that two hundred or more representatives of the Soviet Republic's industries are in this country to study the technique of American production and to "reconvert contacts." In their state papers and the controlled press the ruling coterie at Moscow denounce and deride what they are pleased to call the capitalism of the United States as utterly as they attack the social organization of any land. Apparently they have come here to absorb what they despise.

But Russian communists have an amazing capacity for doing their thinking in separate mental compartments. They easily distinguish between the methods by which the United States has achieved its economic success and the social and political surroundings in which these methods are used. They consciously plan to adopt our scientific procedure while shunning or at least yearning to see "in our day" the complete overthrow of the western political structure. It bothers them not at all to look to our Edison and our Ford for salvation and to expect of our Simons and our Hoovers only damnation.

It is no mere long-distance deduction but the matured observation of Americans who have traveled and lived in the modern Russia that the high priests of sovietism regard the United States with as near an approach to admiration as they can (Continued On Page Five)

A COW TALKS

"Ah," said the cow in the field to me! "I'm little I care what the weather be. You are a human, and you must fret. Getting your feet or your garments wet."

"Well, all at the troubles on earth I own a cow. Are winter covers the fields with snow, and when comes summer the flies bite so."

"But you are a human, and you are wise. And you can escape from the pesky flies. But shing safe in your cool retreat. You are terribly grieved by the price of wheat."

"You come at night from the busy town. Sick at heart because stocks are down. And you're mad if your coffee's a muddly brown."

"You cannot sleep on your bed at night. Everything's wrong and nothing is right. When you go for a ride is raises your head. If you have to get out and change a tire. I watched you playing at golf today. And saw you flinging your clubs away. You're not even happy when you're at play."

"You've always something to lose or gain. But I'm just a cow, and so I remain. Contentedly chewing my cud out here. With nothing to worry about or fear. 'That the life of a cow,' I then replied. 'Is free from trouble cannot be denied. But you can have it. I'm satisfied.'"

THE CONSTITUTION
ON SEPTEMBER 17, 1787, a preamble and seven articles of organic law for the United States of America were ratified by a convention of delegates of deputies of the states, sitting at Philadelphia. These delegates had convened, pursuant to a resolution of the congress of the confederation adopted in February of that year. Their deliberations and their work had been most painstaking and thorough. And they had wrought well. Thus was our national constitution given birth.

Following its adoption by the convention of the states the constitution was submitted by the congress to each of the 13 states for individual action. Three states ratified it by unanimous legislative vote, five by heavy majorities and the other five by majorities less impressive, grading down to that of Rhode Island, which finally, on May 29, 1790, ratified it by a vote of 34 to 32.

Opposition which developed to the constitution following its adoption at Philadelphia, and which at times threatened to defeat its ratification by a few states, was based on the belief held by some that it was not sufficiently explicit as to state's and individual rights. To meet this situation the first congress, sitting in New York, on September 25, 1789, adopted and submitted to the states twelve proposed amendments, then and since then designated collectively as a bill of rights. Ten of these measures were adopted, and two rejected. Other amendments have been proposed and adopted since that early day. Some of them have marked epochal steps in the progress of the nation, such as the one for the abolition of slavery, that for direct election of United States senators, the prohibition amendment and the woman's suffrage movement.

The constitution has stood the test of time and vindicated the wisdom and the patriotism of its framers. After 142 years no serious flaw is found in it by right-thinking Americans. When amendment has been found expedient it has usually taken the direction of additions. Little necessity has been found for taking away from that which our forefathers put into it. No document evolved since the world began is entitled to stand fixed and unchangeable as the sum ultimate of wisdom. If there be progress there must be change. But the constitution in the main stands today as it stood when first evolved and formulated. It is little changed because it has needed little change.

WHAT OF THE HORSE?
The not infrequent sight of a horse, usually a truck or driving horse in from the country, standing in line with automobiles, awaiting the traffic signal to proceed up or down the city street, gives occasion for conjecture as to what that animal is thinking in regard to presentday locomotion!

With the controversy as to whether a horse can think we are not concerned. His intelligence is said to rank about with that of the dog, and by many is declared to be higher. There is little of stupidity to be found in either of these beasts, although their methods of expression naturally differ.

A dog's life is free and untrammelled as compared with that of a horse, who is seldom privileged to roam at will, excepting within the limits of his pasture. If a country horse; if a city dweller, a box stall is a commodious and luxurious apartment. The majority must be content with the narrow, cell-like quarter which admits not even of turning about and facing at will in the opposite direction.

So, while the dog is sung as the universal pet and animal companion of man, the horse is more dependent upon his master and has more reason for loving or for hating him, according to the way in which the latter treats him. There is much of the stoic in the average horse, a "what cannot be cured must be endured" attitude that doubtless carries him through many tedious hours of standing.

Occasionally we find a rebellious animal, who kicks not only figuratively, but actually. A good horseman will declare that a driving horse who has once run away had best be sold at once, as nine times out of 10 he will become a chronic runner, and unsafe for general use. Finding freedom glorious, he has no further taste for moderate speed and the control of the rein and bit.

The occasional horse standing at the intersection of the city streets, paying little attention to the red and green lights, yet obliged to wait for their changing, looks patient and dejected and strangely lacking in "pep." Along the country roads, mostly at the present time, or hard macadam and asphalt, trying to his feet, he plods along without ambition or spirit.

No longer does he feel the sense of exhilaration once his, in keeping pace with fellow horses or out-stepping less speedy ones. Often he is the only one of his kind in sight and he cannot compete with the motor cars, but must let them whirl by him and must take their gaseous odors into his nostrils.

It was not many decades ago that a serious epidemic took hold of horseflesh throughout the country and the question of transportation became a very serious one. It was, of course, before the day of the automobile.

Milk had to be delivered, physicians had to visit their patients. Even oxen were resorted to in this emergency and the horse was never so appreciated as when the crisis was past.

Such a time will never come again, as, even were all horses annihilated forever, we have more substitutes for them now and have a variety of methods of satisfactory transportation. Yet not by any means has the horse outlived its usefulness. In both city and country he is to be found today.

In New York city alone there are 50,000 work horses, this number having held its own for the past 20 years. There are over 300 horses in the police department; and never, it is said, has horse-back riding been popular as now. Over 1,000 saddle horses are in use in that city.

It may be that the patient beast, waiting for the traffic signal to move, meditates upon these things, and smiles in the sardonic way known to horses; as his eye roves over the automobile-crowded thoroughfare. He is but a survival of the time when he was all-important. Yet even today he is not altogether dispensable and in that he must take what satisfaction he may!—The Schenectady Gazette.

A "United States of Europe," though seriously proposed by the Premier of France and said to be favorably regarded by twenty-odd nations, would hardly seem to be within the bounds of possibility. But if it should ever be formed it would be a combination with which the United States of America would do well to keep on good terms commercially, even in a millennial era of "renouanced war."

The man who boasts that he is just as good as you are is the sincerest flatterer.

feel for anything western, that they hope to repeat at home what Americans have done in their own land in industrial and technical development. The difference is to be that there the achievement will be that of the communist state instead of the work of private citizens privately financed. It is to be demonstrated to the world that the dictatorship of the proletariat can do all that a self-styled free people can do and more, once it learns how.

It is fairly unthinkable that these agents of Moscow can spend months in Detroit, Pittsburgh, Akron and wherever else they go and see and learn nothing but the mechanical processing of raw materials. To the degree that practice is better than precept it may be believed that they will carry back with them some little understanding of how capitalism works, changes and adapts itself to a moving world.

Quite possibly the presence in this country of several hundred believers in the Russian variety of communism, and its inalienable right to proselyte will evoke dread spectres in the minds of those whose Americanism is of more sensitive variety. They may or may not consider it a sufficient answer to their qualms to point out that Russia is at this moment similarly the host to a thoroughly equal number of Americans in respect to whom as political germ-carriers the Soviet government is taking a sporting chance.

State Health Secretary Urges Daily "Pep" Walk

"The majority of Pennsylvania citizens have had their two weeks' vacation and are back home once more. It must be admitted that in this annual outpouring of tired men, women and children, much physical and mental good results. But on the other hand, there are many who return from their vacation with their energy quite burned up and with their minds and bodies consequently in anything but first-class shape," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, today.

Be that as it may for the majority of those who made the best, as well as of those who made the worst, of their vacation, the idea seems to exist that once back in the old groove, nothing can be done to build up vigor and vitality until 50 weeks have elapsed. Thus resigned to an eternal hopelessness many persons develop an indifferent physical attitude—and let it go at that. Which, however, is decidedly wrong.

The cool, crisp, vitalizing days of autumn are just around the corner. And while one may not be able to walk along the seashore or in the deep northern woods until next summer, there certainly is no law against using the zestful atmosphere outside the home or office.

"As a matter of fact, nature likes to be treated with consistency; and conversely dislikes being forced. In short, vacation possibilities from a physical welfare standpoint are actually greater in the establishment of the daily habit of a peppy one or two-mile walk in reasonable eating, in the minimization of artificial stimulants, and in adequate sleep than they are in the crowded and exciting 14 days of pleasure which only too frequently build up one's body tone in theory only.

"A little less time spent in wasting time and a little more time utilized

Naval Conference In London May Be Held In January

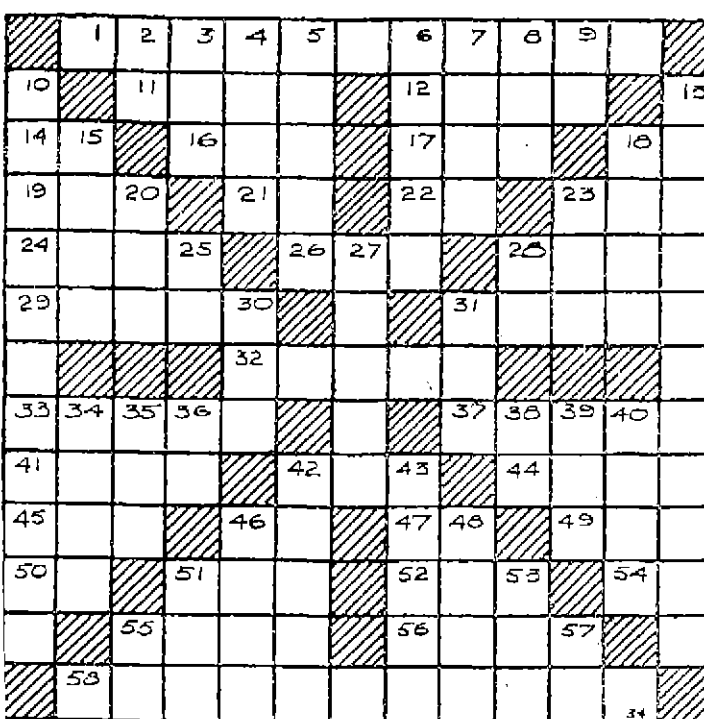

Some Of Nations Agree That December Date Is Too Early To Frame Proposals

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The five-power naval conference proposed to be held in London in December probably will not be called until January, it developed Monday.

Some of the powers have indicated that the December date is too early, and that more time will be required for preparation of their plans. Secretary of State Stimson said, however, that the change in date did not indicate any hitch. The January date, he indicated, is simply more convenient for some of the countries concerned.

A conference such as President Hoover and Premier Ramsay MacDonald are planning involves weeks of preparation for all the countries concerned, and in Japan's case particularly, her delegates will have to travel half way around the world to attend.

OLDSMOBILE RECOGNIZES THESE RESPONSIBILITIES TO EVERY OWNER

The ever-increasing owner loyalty for Oldsmobile may be traced directly to Oldsmobile's fair-minded attitude toward those who purchase Oldsmobile cars. For Oldsmobile does not rest content merely with building a good car. Oldsmobile goes farther—and assumes this four-fold responsibility to every Oldsmobile owner: to design progressively . . . to build faithfully . . . to sell honestly . . . to service sincerely.

To insure sound, progressive engineering, Oldsmobile has brought together a staff of engineers whose joy lies in accomplishment and whose ambition is to contribute some new advancement to Oldsmobile and, through Oldsmobile, some progress to modern motoring. Changes in Oldsmobile design are always made for the sake of progress—never for the sake of change alone. Back of these men are the complete facilities of their own fine engineering laboratories and the vast resources of the General Motors Research Laboratories and General Motors Proving Ground.

Oldsmobile principles of manufacture are expressed in the pledge that every worker follows, from the highest executive to the newest shop employee . . . "Anything short of my best is not acceptable." Faithfulness of manufacture results from allegiance to this ideal . . . faithfulness that means not only fine materials and exacting limits of accuracy, but careful, precise workmanship and rigid inspection.

Oldsmobile firmly believes that absolute honesty in selling and in advertising is the only sure road to long continued public favor. The public is thoroughly capable of judging both quality and value. And the public has conferred upon Oldsmobile the highest reward of merit—constantly increasing preference. Oldsmobile will not risk this priceless good-will by deviating, though it be ever so slightly, from the facts.

Oldsmobile has instituted a service policy that recognizes the equities not only of Oldsmobile owners, but of Oldsmobile dealers as well. Oldsmobile backs up its dealers by accepting responsibilities which are commonly left to the dealer, because Oldsmobile's interest in every sale goes far beyond the time of purchase. This policy is made possible by Oldsmobile's quality, dependability, and fine performance. And it contributes largely to the loyalty and enthusiasm of the mounting thousands of Oldsmobile owners.

To design progressively. To build faithfully. To sell honestly. To service sincerely. Four great responsibilities—recognized by Oldsmobile and willingly assumed in order that every Oldsmobile owner shall be a friend of Oldsmobile.

"AN OLD FRIEND'S BROTHER"

"Hurrah!" cried Peter after one long look at the hop-skip-jumping stranger. "You are Mr. Cricket and one of your brothers was a very great friend of mine at home. I am a boy, you know, and the other Mr. Cricket lives on our hearth. Every night when the logs were blazing he used to come out of his hole in the wall and sit in front of the leaping flame and sing me to sleep. All his songs sounded alike—much the same—so 'comfy,' and what cared I if he never changed his tune! I was never afraid to stay alone in the dark as long as he was around. Some nights my father and mother would leave me at home and go to spend the evening at a neighbor's. As soon as they were gone, out hopped Mr. Cricket and began his song."

The Cricket who had just come out from behind the gray rock was interested.

"You must be speaking of my long-lost brother!" chirped he. "I always wondered what became of him! So he settled down and became a family man, did he?"

"I'll say so!" said Peter. "He has the finest wife and a large family of children, (so I've been told although I never saw them). Mr. and Mrs. Cricket believed that children should be heard but not seen, and kept them in the nursery. After the youngsters were in bed and asleep Mrs. Cricket would hop out to join Mr. Cricket and the two of them would give a concert. Mother said Crickets on the Hearth brought good luck to the family they chose to make their home with!"

Well, well, isn't that interesting!

"HURRY UP WIFE! WHERE ARE YOU?"

My wife will have to be told the good news. By the way, although she is a little shy when first she meets anyone, she'll soon get over it and once she takes a fancy to a fellow she is his friend for life. Chee Chee!" called Mr. Cricket. "Come here, dear, I want you to meet a friend of brother's." Then Mr. Cricket confided to Peter.

"Wife's real name in Chero because she is always so cheerful. But it is a long name, so I call her Chee for short."

Again Mr. Cricket lifted his voice and called:

"Hurry up wife! Where are you?"

Question Box For Junior High Pupils

Questions Deposited Are Answered Soon By Club Which Gets Them

Questions of interest to students at the George Washington Junior High School are submitted to different clubs for an answer now. A system has been adopted whereby the pupils can deposit in a club mail box any question that puzzles them and an answer will be returned.

The box is located on the second floor and is watched over by members of the faculty. Each week it is emptied, its contents distributed to the different clubs and an answer determined during the meeting. Faculty members declare it is bound to prove a stimulation to club work.

The mail box was made by the boys of Harold Value's shop class and painted an attractive color by the art students under Miss Helena Burkhardt's direction.

Roundhead Vet And Wife, Of Crafton Are Wedded Sixty Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sankey, Who attended Reunion This Summer, Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sankey of Crafton, former New Castle residents, observed their 60th wedding anniversary at their home in Crafton yesterday. Longevity of life seems to run in the Sankey family, for in addition to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sankey, three other members of the family have rounded off 50 years of wedded happiness.

The first of these was Mr. and Mrs. David Sankey, the former an uncle of J. P. Sankey, who observed their 50th wedding anniversary here in New Castle some years ago. Then came Mr. Sankey's brother, Eben Sankey, and wife, also of New Castle. Then Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sankey observed their 50th anniversary, followed by J. P. Sankey's brother, Lawrence, and wife, of Salem, Mo. Mr. Sankey is 82. He was born in New Castle and at the age of 16 enlisted in the old Roundhead regiment, 160th Pennsylvania Volunteers, serving throughout the war. Returning to New Castle he worked as a printer, having served his apprenticeship as a printer's devil prior to the Civil War. Later he entered railroad work; city store this week.

and after spending many years in service here moved to Crafton 30 years ago, where he served as foreman of the Duquesne freight station. He was retired 13 years ago.

Mrs. Sankey was Eliza C. Reis of Pittsburgh.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sankey attended the annual reunion of the Roundhead regiment here last month. Mr. Sankey being elected vice president of the regiment at the annual election of officers.

Public Employment Services To Hold Annual Convention

Philadelphia Will Be Host To Delegates To International Convention

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Three subjects vital to labor and industry—debarment of workers over 40 years of age, payment of a cultural wage, and a national clearing house for labor—will be debated by labor leaders, students of economy and state and national employment chiefs at the seventh annual convention of the International Association of Public Employment Services here during the week of September 23rd.

Walter J. Lloyd, director of the Pennsylvania bureau of employment, and manager of the convention, has urged every state and 8000 industries to send delegates.

Addressing the convolve and participating in debate are many notables including James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor; Congressman Franklin W. Fort, of New Jersey, and Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania.

Contributing factors of unemployment, fee charging labor agencies and handicapped workers are other topics to face discussion. Decisions will be recommended to various state employment bureaus and to industries of the nation.

Trouble Ahead In Navy Paring Quite Apparent

France, Italy And Japan
Starts Press Comment
On Proposed Naval Disarming Parley

CONFERENCE MAY BE LONG AFFAIR

Other Nations Jealous As Great Britain And
United States
Take Lead

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Although the completion of the Anglo-American naval agreement has removed the largest obstacle in the way of further world-wide naval reduction, strong indications were forthcoming today that the five-powered conference to be held in London in December is not going to be any love feast.

Administration officials were surprised and a little shocked at the sharp criticism of the British-American program voiced in the French press, and the "notice" served that the other powers, France, Italy and Japan, do not intend to sit back and allow Great Britain and the United States to dictate the size of their navies.

Only Press Comment
The criticism thus far has all been in the press, and the subsidized press of Europe, particularly of France and Italy, usually takes its color from the government in power.

Both President Hoover and Premier
Ramon Macdonald, who is coming to Washington two weeks hence to complete the naval accord, have taken a cautious care throughout the British-American negotiations to keep the other powers informed of each step in the exchanges. This has been done, not by written notes or memoranda, but by informally acquainting the ambassadors in Washington and London with the progress enabling them to report to their governments. Paris, Rome and Tokio all at times knew what was going on.
It is noted here with some uneasiness that even before the call for the five-powered conference has gone out that the French press is "serving notice" that France will not accept naval parity with Italy. And it is also noted that the Italian press, undoubtedly reflecting the policy of Mussolini's government, is similarly serving notice that nothing short of parity with France will appease Italian sentiment and national aspirations.

Foresee Trouble
Washington foresees trouble ahead in this Franco-Italian jealousy. Both countries have been caged in hot competitive naval building in the last few years, and both claim the Mediterranean as their particular sphere of influence.

It is not forgotten here that but for French objection the original Washington conference eight years ago undoubtedly would have limited auiliary naval ships, as it did capital ships, and perhaps abolished submarines altogether. The other powers were willing, but France, smarting under the comparatively minor ratio accorded her in capital ships, refused to go along.

Both President Hoover and Premier
Macdonald have consistently stressed the patent fact that the success of the Anglo-American accord hinges entirely upon the willingness of the other powers to go along in a world-wide agreement. The United States and Great Britain cannot drastically limit their respective navies if the other powers are left free to build freely.

First Rumbles
Consequently, the first rumbles of thunder in France and Italy is attracting considerable attention here.
This phase of the matter undoubtedly will occupy a good deal of the time of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Macdonald when the latter reaches here for a week's conference.

There is considerable speculation in Washington over the make-up of the American delegation that will go to London.

Secretary of State Stimson, it is believed, probably will head the delegation. If President Hoover follows the precedent set by President Harding, there will be senatorial representation in the delegation, also, and this has brought up the question of whether Senator William E. Borah will go.
Borah is chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, which must in the end approve any compact reached at London.

May Select Borah
At the Washington conference the American delegation included the chairman of the foreign relations committee, in that instance Senator Lodge (R) of Massachusetts, and the Democratic leader of the Senate, then Oscar Underwood of Alabama. Should the precedent be followed in this Borah would be appointed and Senator
Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas.

Borah's friends, however, have some doubts as to whether he would accept it offered the place. He has never been abroad. Moreover, he is a "lone wolf" in international relations, and many of his friends believe he would prefer to have a detached position and retain his independence, which would be impossible were he a party to the proceedings.

Borah himself is silent about it.
As for the rest of the delegation, it is considered fairly certain that Hugh
S. Gibson, now ambassador to Belgium, who headed the delegation at Geneva, will be included, as will Admirals Jones and Long, who were Gibson's chief advisers at Geneva.

Songbird Dinner Proves Costly One

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—Crist Colizzo and Joseph Blasi, both of Scranton, Pa., recently paid $20 fines and costs for killing and eating song birds, consisting of two wood thrushes and a brown thrasher. Game Supervisor M. E. Sherman of Chinchilla, Pa., who prosecuted the men, stated that a shack owned by Colizzo was the rendezvous of many former songbird killing and feasting parties. Teaching the foreigners that all song birds are protected in Pennsylvania has been the chief aim of the game commission ever since its inception. In many parts of Italy, for instance, song birds are killed for food, and because of this it has been difficult to educate them concerning our laws.

ABE MARTIN On Family Reunions

GITTIN' THE LOWDOWN ON AN ILL-STARRED NIECE.

Late Kite's nephew is here from Yuma, Arizona, to attend the family reunion, makin' the trip in less'n two days an' a half. This is the season for family reunions, the tail end of summer when there's just enough snap in the mornin' air to make us step lively an' git the potato salad packed an' snuggled away in the car. Potato salad makes a dandy bulwark for many of the relatives who come to the reunion. It is a sure thing to find enough relatives on speaker's terms to have a family reunion, but where it's possible to recruit forty-five or fifty kinsmen where fairly friendly toward one another an' herd 'em in some sylvan retreat it makes a mighty fine spectacle. Automobiles have rather tamed down the family reunion. There's no more the huggin' an' kissin' an' handshakin' among relatives that used to be in the horse an' buggy days when mebbe a couple o' aunts, or an' uncle an' nephew, wouldn't see one another from one year's end to another. Folks with autos know that they kin see their grandpaws, or aunts, or cousins, any time they want to, so a big annual gittin' together hasn't got the appeal it used to have. In lots o' instances, too, where we know we kin hop in a car an' put our hands on an' out an' uncle any ole time we feel like it, we just keep puttin' it off an' puttin' it off till sometimes we never see 'em. The big fine, inspirin' thing about a family reunion, next to the potato salad, is seein' all the relatives on both sides o' the family in one mighty group. What a study o' chins an' knees an' Adam's apples. There never was a family reunion dinner that started on the dot. Somebody's allus late, hild back by a sick cow, or mebbe a rookin' back in a tire. Men folks allus git so impatient an' whip out their watches, or look at the sun, when a meal is held up. An' there's allus some delay in selectin' a site for the spread. Lots o' relatives object to settin' down to eat in a bed o' pennyrayal, while others are bitterly opposed to rag weeds, an' nothin' funnier than a flapper settin' down on a thistle, so it's fun to watch an' explorin' party o' women folks tryin' to find a nice, shady, grassy, level spot where the olives won't roll on the coffee pot tip over. No family reunion dinner ever got fairly under way before somebody upset the cream, an' there's allus at least one round, three-columned aunt or uncle who prefers to eat off a stump or runnin' board.

NESHANNOCK VIADUCT

Long Beach, Calif., September 12, 1929.

Editor of News, New Castle, Pa.

In an issue of The News of September 4, I read an article written by Mr. Davis who gave Wampum as his place of residence. The article was regarding the Croton avenue viaduct.

In my opinion, I don't think Mr. Davis is competent to pass on this project, from the fact that he seems to know but very little of the needs of New Castle. As I have studied the situation from the standpoint of present conditions and future development, also as a taxpayer, I think now is the appropriate time for the building of the viaduct. It would relieve a long need, from the fact that so many of our necessary institutions are located on the North Hill. It would mean easy access to those institutions from the east side. In my opinion, it is one of the things needed the most at the present time, for the convenience and welfare of the whole community.

Mr. Davis spoke of the great cost and the burden of taxation. If he has been observant at all, he will have to confess that taxes are heavy and no doubt always will be considered a burden by the most of us. But taxes are to provide the necessary conveniences, comforts and pleasures for our people and at the time which they are needed.

The gentleman from down the valley says the commissioners are the caretakers of the county's money and should only use it in the interest of the most of the people. From this statement, I can't see why he should object to the building of this viaduct. I believe it would be used extensively. I agree with him in regard to the care the commissioners should take in spending the public's money. He suggests that the county and city build a boulevard up the Neshannock by the way of the paper mill to Croton avenue, by way of Cascade street. Now I wonder if he thinks that this would be a convenient way for funerals, ambulances and school children to get to the cemetery, hospitals and schools from the east side. I would suggest for the gentleman to move up and study the situation and conditions more thoroughly and he may change his opinion in regard to the building of this viaduct. In my opinion, the commissioners have listened to his kind of yapping too much in the past few years and have spent the public's money unwisely.

I refer to the late structure over the Neshannock creek from North street to Croton avenue and right where the railroad crosses the avenue at grade. This surely is not intelligent progress in this day of congested traffic. No doubt, an injunction would have to be issued that particular program. We have not got value received for the expenditure. I consider it a waste of funds, which could have been applied to the proposed viaduct and the community would have something worth while, both in the way of a convenience and the relief of traffic.

In regard to bridges, viaduct and some other public utilities, New Castle is 50 years behind. I wonder what people would think who advocated the viaduct but who died years ago, if they would come back now and observe that there is no viaduct. They were for progress and development and lived in the future while we have been living in the yesterday of time, dreaming of the past.

It takes effort to get the things wanted, so here is for a more progressive and a larger and better New Castle with the viaduct.

442 of the 451 important Hollywood actresses use Lux Toilet Soap

BETTY BRONSON, Warner Brothers' star, in the luxurious marble bathroom built in Hollywood just for her charming youthfulness. She uses Lux Toilet Soap not only in her bathroom, but in her dressing room on location—wherever her pictures are being made.

The next time you see her in a close-up, notice how smooth this daintily fragrant white soap keeps her skin.

She says about Lux Toilet Soap: "A star must have smooth skin for the close-up. I find this lovely soap is wonderful for my skin."

"SMOOTH SKIN is a perpetual attraction," says Allan Dwan, famous director—and sums up what 39 foremost Hollywood directors have learned from the movies.

"The kind of rose-petal skin which can pass the test of the close-up is the kind of beauty that gets the American public every time," he goes on to say.

It is for this reason that 9 out of 10 screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. They have found that it keeps their skin satiny and soft—always. And all the great film studios have made this white fragrant soap the official soap in their dressing rooms.

Poultrymen At State College On Big Tour

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Several hundred Pennsylvania poultrymen will arrive here late this afternoon for sessions tonight of the State Poultry and State Baby Chick Association meetings. Tomorrow they will inspect the Pennsylvania State College poultry plant and its new brooder house 250 feet long, and learn of the latest scientific poultry growing methods from college research men and extension specialists.

The poultrymen reach State College as the center of attraction on automobile tours that started Monday. Western Pennsylvania growers assembled at Franklin and have visited successful poultry farms in their part of the state in the past two days. Eastern Pennsylvania bird men gathered near Allentown and have toured the eastern section. While here the visitors will be addressed on two occasions by J. E. Rice, head of the poultry department at Cornell University.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why an internal remedy, Dr. Leukin's Hem-Rid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Rid has given thousands of this suffering people the same for you, or money back. Game Food Will Be Scarce This Winter In State

Field Officers Of Pennsylvania Game Commission Ordered To Start Feeding

EARLY FROSTS AND DROUGHT BLAMED

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—The game food problem this winter promises to be a serious one according to reports received from many sections of the state. The severe drought in many localities has been responsible for this shortage to a great degree, as has premature heavy frosts in the northern tier counties. Officers report a very poor crop. Nuts are failing without opening and foliage is badly burned.

In lieu of these conditions the field officers of the Game Commission have already been instructed to begin feeding operations. Corn is one of the best foods to put out at this time, especially for turkeys and squirrels. Mixed grains will do well for rabbits and quail, although quail like the Hungarian Partridge, confines his winter diet almost entirely to weeds.

The Ruffed Grouse eats many different forms of winter food. It eats the buds and terminal twigs of birch, aspen, poplar, fire cherry, apple, hawthorn, and wild rose. It is very fond of berries and pulpy fruits, such as blackberries, winter-green berries, lack-in-the-pulpit, redhaws, rose hips, black haws, and apples. They often eat leaves of the winter-green berry and laurel during winter. On the ground they find weed-seeds, small acorns and beech nuts, and they like the fruit of bitter-sweet, wild grapes and Virginia Creeper. Grouse do not often feed upon waste grain as they do not come into the open as a rule.

Varities of foods which can be used at feeding shelters for game to very good advantage include commercial feed, good screenings, commercial chick feed, wheat, oats, rye, barley, broom-corn, millet, and sunflower seed.

Elk vary their diet normally with lichens, leaves, twigs of various trees, and such small fruits as they can find. When such foods are scarce they will eat clover, timothy, and alfalfa, branches from fruit and other trees, and occasionally corn and other grains.

Feeding the deer is the greatest problem of all for these creatures do not respond favorably to hay and fodder placed for them. They will eat corn which is placed for turkeys; also, they like unthreshed grains and cut apples.

While the real necessity for placing food will develop later when heavy snows cover the ground, it must be remembered that the more we provide for the wild creatures until that time the better they will be able to withstand the severe winter months.

Sportsmen's organizations, farmers, Scouts, rural mail carriers, and other interested are asked to give the game-feeding problem this winter their serious consideration. Local Game Protectors will stand ready to assist in any way they can and will be only too glad to point out the places in the forests where food is most scarce.

Few Deaths From Dread Disease Here

According to statistics issued by the State Department of Health, there were but four deaths from tuberculosis, six from cancer and five from cerebral hemorrhage during the month of July in Lawrence county.

Cases of contagion reported from the county during the month were as follows: diphtheria, 3; measles, 11; scarlet fever, 3; typhoid fever, 1; and whooping cough, 14.

The old-timers lacked a few modern advantages, but when they kissed a girl the only flavor they got was girl.

It would be interesting to discover how many wreck victims had their teeth and tonsils out the week before in order to prolong their lives.

Tuberculosis Hits Younger Groups

President Of State Tuberculosis Society Discusses Ravages Of This Disease

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—More than two-thirds of the tuberculosis deaths in Pennsylvania occur during the period when a person is of the greatest value to the family and to the community.

This statement was made today by Dr. H. R. M. Landis, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, in announcing that the fifth of a series of sectional conferences preliminary to the 1929 sale of Christmas Seals will be held in Pittsburgh at the Fort Pitt Hotel next Thursday, September 19.

"In Pennsylvania last year, we are informed by the State Health Department, there were 2320 deaths from tuberculosis in the ages 1 to 35," said Dr. Landis. "From 35 to 45 the tuberculosis deaths numbered 1260. Out of a total, therefore, of 6732 deaths from tuberculosis last year, 4540 succumbed in the best years of life. In addition a heavy loss is sustained through the long period of illness. Before death the average length of illness is 2 1-3 years, during at least one year of which the patient is unable to work. The care necessary is another big item."

With tuberculosis as the leading cause of death among the younger age groups, the tuberculosis organizations are preparing for the 23rd annual sale of Christmas Seals in an effort to lessen this terrific loss from death and disability.

The National Tuberculosis Association is to be represented by F. D. Hopkins, Executive Secretary. Tuberculosis organizations affiliated with the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society are to send delegates from Allegheny, Fayette, Greene, Washington, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong and Westmoreland counties.

KONJOLA HELPED HER TO HAVE GLORIOUS HEALTH

Case That Resisted Every Treatment Tried Yielded To This New And Different Medicine.

MRS. ELLIE BACHMAN

"I was troubled with constipation, which finally saturated my system with poisons," said Mrs. Ellie Bachman, 923 Mulberry street, Reading, Pa. "Then my kidneys failed to function properly, and then pain, misery and suffering began. Indigestion added to my woes and I was sick and miserable all over. I suffered from gas and bloating and my legs began to swell at the knees. My sleep was broken several times during the night because of weak kidneys."

"A neighbor recommended Konjola and I decided to give it a trial. Day by day I could note improvement, and at the end of three weeks I was practically normal. In every way. But I am going on with the treatment and at the rate I am going now, in two more weeks I shall have back the complete and glorious health I never expected to enjoy again. Konjola is surely the most powerful medicine I find. I intend to tell all who suffer as I did."

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., by Dr. J. E. Shaffer, drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

The Most Beautiful BLACK you have ever seen

"THE most beautiful black you've ever seen!" "All my friends admire my new black silk!" "The coat I thought was hopelessly spotted is now a new, beautiful black!" These are typical comments from women who have used these true, jet black dyes.

Diamond Dyes Black never gives cloth a greenish or bronzy look, as so many black dyes do. Like Diamond Dyes Red and all the other Diamond colors, it is easy to use and gives such beautiful results because it is rich in pure anilines. It's the anilines in dyes that give them brilliance, depth and fastness; make them go on smoothly and evenly, without streaking or spotting. And Diamond Dyes contain the highest quality anilines that money can buy. The white package of Diamond Dyes is the highest quality dye, prepared for general use. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon, or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk and wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Diamond Dyes contain the highest quality anilines money can buy. And it is the life of that count. They are the life of rich colors; brilliance and permanence.

The FOOD WASTED in many homes WOULD BUY THIS GENERAL ELECTRIC

That pint of milk which you wouldn't think of giving the children, the half-bottle of cream that's ever so faintly sour, the bowl of applesauce that doesn't smell quite sweet, the soup stock, the end of a leg of lamb . . . the countless left-overs that would make perfectly good dishes if you could only be sure they were safely fresh.

You can be sure. A General Electric Refrigerator will quietly and automatically maintain a temperature safely below 50 degrees. Left-overs will always be healthfully fresh . . . you'll have a generous supply of ice cubes whenever you want them . . . your current bills will be surprisingly low.

Keep track of the food you have to throw away for one week, multiply that figure by four . . . and then compare your result with the moderate monthly payment which will give you the perfect, health-guarding refrigeration which a General Electric assures. Remember that this is the only refrigerator which has an all-steel cabinet and an hermetically sealed mechanism. Come in today and get the whole story.

Every General Electric Refrigerator is Hermetically Sealed

Will Celebrate Safety Records

Penn-Ohio Electrical Employees To Observe Remarkable Record For Safety

Outstanding safety records made by electrical employees of the Penn-Ohio System will be celebrated Wednesday evening at Youngstown. Three hundred thirty-five men of the line metering, underground and distribution engineering divisions will be guests of the company at a dinner meeting held in recognition of their achievement in working six months, from February 1 to July 31 without a member of the sections they represented losing a single hour because of accident.

The men to be feted comprise seven of the nine teams into which the electrical employees are divided in a continuous safety contest. They come from Youngstown, New Castle, Sharon, Zellenhope, Greenville, Girard and Salem-Columbiana-Lisbon districts and are one of the largest groups participating in these periodic celebrations since the safety contest started three years ago.

During the six months for the record in which the dinner meeting is held, 335 men on the seven teams, worked a total of 413,963 man-hours without a lost time accident, and a lost time accident means a man being "off the job" for as little as an hour. This time is equivalent to one man working eight hours a day for 300 days a year for 175 years, quite a stretch in itself and especially so when the character of the work performed is considered.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern—so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern—least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

Steel Company Employees Hear Appeal For Safety From Accident Victim

Employees of the Carnegie Steel Company had "Safety" presented to them Monday, September 16 in a way that could not be misunderstood, presented in a forceful manner by a man who was a living example of what carelessness in industry means.

The speaker was Walter E. Darling, of Cincinnati, O., a young man who had his eyesight destroyed in an explosion in Cleveland, O., about seven years ago. Darling is a man of splendid physique, an ex-service man, and was apparently on the high road to happiness and contentment when an explosion occurred in a plant in which he was employed, injuring him terribly, and among his injuries was his sight.

Held In Pipe Shop
The meetings, for there were three of them, were held in the Pipe Shop of the Carnegie Company, with every employee attending at one of the three meetings. Mr. Darling was brought here through the arrangements of John A. O'Neil, Safety Director of the Carnegie Steel, and J. H. Hunter, assistant director. The meetings here were held under the supervision of J. Clarence Miller, Safety Director.

The message of Mr. Darling was one that went home. As he stood on the platform in the pipe shop, his speech, pleading with the men who make steel, to be careful at their work, to follow the doctrines of "Safety First", it was very apparent that his message was making its impress.

"The costs of carelessness are appalling," said Mr. Darling. "Not the cost to the industries, for they can pay it. Not the costs to the insurance companies for compensation for they expect to pay them. The big cost, the heart-rending cost is the cost in mental suffering to the wives, the mothers and the families of the men who are injured. A little cocaine administered by a physician kills the pain of the injured man, but there is no anesthesia for the heart aches of mothers and wives."

"Be careful, men," he pleaded. "You can't afford to take chances, you can't afford to jeopardize the happiness of those you love. Accidents come like a bolt of lightning from a blue sky, but the suffering goes on through life."

Bedridden Six Months

I Am Now Doing My Own Housework.

I was all run down with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart, often getting black in the face and thought to be dying, and for six months I was confined to my bed. A relative of mine who had been troubled with female weakness and nervous prostration and had been cured by Thompson's Barosma, recommended it to me. I began to take the Barosma at once and was not only cured of nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart, but began to gain back my flesh, and from that time on until now have been perfectly well, doing my own housework.—Mrs. Ely M. Marsh, Titusville, Pa.

When constipation is present Golden Lax Tablets (25 and 50 cents) should always be taken. Thompson's Barosma $1.00 for sale at all drug stores.

Audino Is Facing Embezzlement Charge

Claim That There Is A Shortage
In The House Of Savoy
Funds

Pasquale Audino, former secretary of the House of Savoy, was placed on trial before Judge Hildebrand this morning on a charge of embezzlement to his own use, $194.25 of the funds of the organization. The commonwealth alleges that the House of Savoy was chartered as a beneficial organization in 1897. It is kept up by the dues from members. For several years

Audino was secretary and collected the dues.

When Audino went out of office and a new secretary was elected it was found that there was a shortage in the funds. This had originally amounted to around $600, but over $400 had been paid back. In the case against Audino, which charges embezzlement, a deficiency of $194.25 is charged.

The Story Of The World War
118—The Situation At The Russian Court

NICHOLAS II
LAST OF THE ROMANOV
CZARS.

THE COLLAPSE OF RUSSIA IN THE WORLD WAR WAS LARGELY DUE TO THE INCOMPETENCY, WEAKNESS AND CORRUPTION OF THE RUSSIAN COURT AND HIGH OFFICIALS OF THE CZAR. TO THE DAY OF HIS DOWNFALL THE CZAR, NICHOLAS II, REMAINED "THE AUTOCRAT OF ALL THE RUSSIANS," BLOCKING LIBERAL REFORMS AND STRIVING TO KEEP ALL THE POWER IN HIS OWN HANDS.

THE INNER CIRCLE OF THE RUSSIAN COURT WAS COMPLETELY UNDER THE SPELL OF A RELIGIOUS IMPOSTOR, GREGORY RASPUTIN. THE PICKY CZARINA BLINDLY FOLLOWED RASPUTIN'S COUNSEL IN ALL MATTERS, AND THROUGH HER THIS CHARLATAN WAS ABLE TO INFLUENCE THE MOST VITAL DECISIONS OF THE CZAR AND SWAY THE DESTINIES OF RUSSIA.

THE GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS, CHIEF COMMANDER OF THE RUSSIAN ARMIES, HAD INCURRED THE ENMITY OF THE CZARINA AND RASPUTIN. AFTER THE GREAT RUSSIAN DEFEAT IN GALICIA IN 1915 THE CZARINA PERSUADED THE CZAR TO REMOVE THE GRAND DUKE AND TO ASSUME THE DUTIES OF COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF HIMSELF.

THE APPOINTMENT OF A HIGH OFFICIAL BECAME NOT A QUESTION OF HIS FITNESS FOR THE POST, BUT OF WHETHER OR NOT HE WAS ACCEPTABLE TO THE CZARINA AND THE MORE RASPUTIN. THE WEAK-WILLED CZAR ALLOWED HIMSELF TO BE GUIDED BY THE ADVICE OF THESE TWO SECRET "MINISTERS" WHO ENCOURAGED HIM TO RULE WITH AN IRON HAND.

Rainfall Puts Crimp In Boxing

Downpour Forces Postponement; Burns Meets McKenna Here Monday

KOSKY AND MICHIEL TO BATTLE LATER

By ED. FRITZ
Last night's heavy downpour of rain forced a postponement of the boxing show between Ray Kosky and Willie Michiel until September 30. Next Monday night Johnny Burns, one of the leading contenders for the middleweight championship, will fight Jack McKenna, Canadian, who floored Henry Firpo and held him to a draw at Cleveland.

The deluge broke forth in all its intensity about 7:30 p. m. last night, and within 15 minutes the water almost overflowed the curbs of the downtown section. At State and Grant streets the water poured over the sidewalk, flooded parking grounds and entered a part of the bowl.

At 8:30 p. m. the rain was still falling heavily with no sign of a let-up, and the water was still rampaging through different parts of the city, and it was decided after a conference with the boxing commission's deputy, Larry Gent, to ask for a postponement.

The boxing commission's deputy telephoned to Commissioner Harvey Boyle and acquainted him with the situation and he agreed to a postponement until Wednesday. It was later learned that Kosky filed a contract to fight that night at Toledo.

Plan To Improve Storm Sewer Intake On Grant Street

City councilmen yesterday visited Grant street and inspected the storm sewer which empties into the Schuylkill river. Residents in the vicinity have asked that council take some action to prevent flooding of the street when big storms arise.

It seems that there is an intake to the sewer near the Miller property and that a screen had been placed there which had caught logs. The screen was removed. Yesterday council found that conditions were all right.

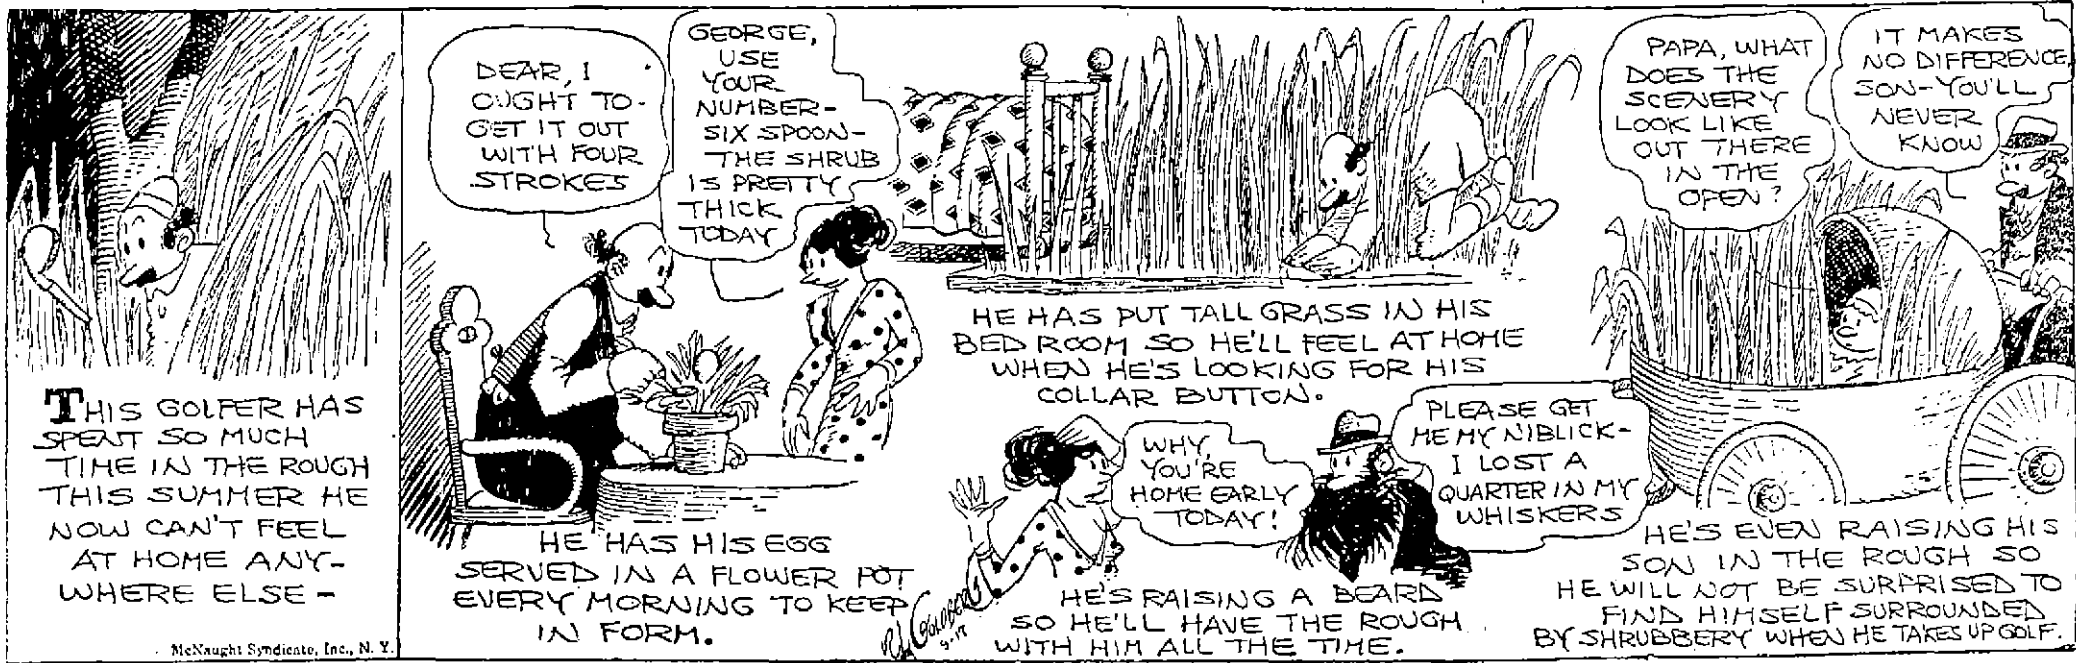

They believe that by placing two screens and building a larger entrance wall that conditions will be made better. One big screen, probably made of rails, will catch logs, and a finer screen at the intake will stop other substances entering the storm sewer.

Today when City Engineer Miller was asked how many catch basins were on the state street hill, he said two. It was down this hill, it is said, that water with every big rain rushes.

Italians-Pennsy To Play Third Game At Centennial Tonight

Weather Permitting, Italians And Pennsy To Resume Title Series Tonight

Game Called For 6 O'Clock; Both Teams On Edge; Italians Stage Workout

By "BUGS"

If old man "Jupe" Pluvius sees fit, the Italian and Pennsy teams will resume their championship series in the Lawrence county baseball league at Centennial field. The game is scheduled for 6 o'clock. It will be the third game. The Italians took the first game, and the second game was deadlocked at 3-3. The series is the best out of five.

Both teams are rarin' to go in the third game. There is an air of confidence in both camps. The game tonight, if played, should be a good one.

Italians Stage Workout.
Manager Alex Black had the Italians at Centennial field last evening for a long workout. The boys showed plenty of pep and are anxious for the contest this evening. The Italians hope to take three straight games from the railroaders. The Pennsy team will fight back with their backs to the wall. They are one game behind. A victory tonight will cause the series to be tied up.

The date for the fourth game has not as yet been selected. It may be played on Saturday. If the series drags out any longer, the boys may still be playing when the snow falls.

Pitchers In Shape
Manager McClosky is likely to pin his faith tonight in Rodenbaugh to stop the Italians. "Rody" had tough luck in the first game, and has asked for another chance at the Italians.

Coates will be kept in readiness. Black has Huston, Shields and Shiek to pick from tonight. The choice will probably go to Shields, with Shiek and Huston held in the "bull-pen" ready to enter the game at any moment.

Evans and Parks have been selected to umpire the game tonight. Nolte and McCann will work the fourth game.

With any kind of a break in the weather tonight, the stands at Centennial field will no doubt be filled, as there is considerable interest in the series. Should the game tonight be postponed, it will be played on Wednesday night, it was announced today by Carm Sacco.

Children Warned Not To Trespass

Pennsylvania Railroad Police Instructed To Break Up Practice

Parents whose children frequently trespass upon Pennsylvania railroad property while enroute to and from school are warned to see that such carelessness is checked at once. During the past few days large numbers of children have haunted danger by congregating in groups and walking along the tracks.

Patrolman W. H. Rodgers of the E. and A. division force, speaking of the audition today, said that railroad police have been instructed to stop it. Parents are reminded that a penalty awaits those who continue to disobey.

Districts where school children have frequently taken extreme risks are near Moravia street, Cherry street, Oakland and along the track on Grant avenue. School authorities are asked to cooperate in the effort to discourage it.

Columbus Pastor At Second Baptist
Rev. A. J. Payne of Columbus, O., will preach in the Second Baptist church Wednesday evening, September 18, at 7:45. Dr. Payne is one of the outstanding preachers of the denomination. A. Alexander and C. Jackson will lead the prayer service preceding the sermon.

Lehigh-Tin Mill Play Tonight In Mushball Series

Lehigh And Tin Mill Teams On Edge For Start Of Mushball League Title Series

Tonight at 6 o'clock at the Lehigh field, weather allowing, the Lehigh Cement and the Shenango Tin Mill teams will battle in the first game of the championship series. The series will be the best out of three games. The second game is set for Thursday night.

Both teams are evenly matched as to playing material and a real lively series is anticipated by followers of both clubs. The Tin Mill team won the title in the first and second rounds of play and the Lehigh team tied them in the third round of play. It is only fitting and proper that two such fine teams should battle for the flag. The Phalanx team for a while looked ripe to snatch the honors in the third round, but they fell by the wayside in the latter part of the schedule.

Lehigh Submitted.
Manager Fred Flynn today submitted a list of 15 players who are eligible for the series. Manager Perker of the Tin Mill team did likewise.

Owing to the fact that the days are getting shorter, and all of the other leagues have ceased to play, it was deemed best to close the mushball league season for 1929. Many of the teams protested the action in closing the season, but it was getting late in the season and the officials wanted the series started.

Next year the mushball league here will no doubt thrive. It is planned to have two leagues, to be known as class A and class B, it being the contention of many that several of the teams this year were too strong, and it is hoped that enough teams can be secured for two circuits in the spring of 1930. A much longer schedule will be played next year.

Game Proves Popular.
The game proved very popular here this summer. It was the first year that anything of its kind was ever tried out and the boys took to the game like ducks take to water.

The second game of the series will be played at the Colonial grounds off Euclid avenue on Thursday night. Just where the third game will be played—if one is necessary—has not yet been determined, although the Tin Mill team has agreed to Lehigh field.

The umpires to handle the series will be Charles "Bugs" Walther, "Pickles" Gray and "Lindy" Bruce. The two teams have asked that this trio handle the official end of the series.

Lock Haven School Child Dies Of Diphtheria; Precautions Are Taken

LOCK HAVEN Pa., Sept. 17.—Rush shipments of Toxin-Antitoxin were enroute here today following the death last night of Robert Dale Callahan, 7, from diphtheria contracted two days ago.

Two other pupils of the Robb School had been placed under quarantine today with the disease. Authorities at the school had the rooms fumigated and equipment used by the ill pupils has been destroyed.

The toxin, when it arrives will be given to all pupils of the city school. It was believed inoculation would prevent a possible epidemic.

Loss And Damage To Be Discussed

Representatives of all departments of the Erie and Ashtabula division, Pennsylvania railroad, will convene here Wednesday for the regular loss and damage prevention meeting. The group gathers monthly.

E. A. Fenton chairman of the committee and E. J. Wilson, division safety director will be in charge.

Jones To Enroll In Geneva College

Charles "Bub" Jones prominent South Side athlete, left Monday for Geneva college where he will take a course in physical education.

"Bub" as he is known to his friends proved an outstanding star on the basketball floor as well as the diamond playing with the second half winners of the Lawrence County League I. A. A. baseball team.

Frack May Be Made Into Westminster End

William Frack Oskmont, substitute halfback on last year's championship Westminster College grid team, may be made into an end this season.

Frack has been on the sidelines for almost a week with injuries, but before his injury he was being used at end on the second team. A capable ball carrier, Frack should fit into the Carnegie Tech system employed which calls for ball-carrying ends.

Bridenbaugh Gives Tentative Lineup

New Castle High Team Will Meet Grove City Here On Friday Night

Night Football Will Be Tried Out For First Time; Expect Large Crowd

By "BUGS" WALTHER

In the next three days the New Castle high school football team will have a lot of heavy work. Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is pessimistic regarding the team this year. Grove City high will be here Friday night for the first game. The game will start at 8:15. Night football will be tried out here for the first time Friday. The fans are anxiously awaiting the initial game. Playing football at night is something new for local football lovers.

The backfield will find McQuay calling signals, and playing a great game this year. "Red" has improved and will be a valuable asset this year. Art Alexander and Dick Thomas seem to have the call for the half-back posts. Morle "Red" McIntosh, a big 180-pound youth, will be the fullback according to the coach. Olin backfield men who have shown marked ability and who may get in the first game are Robert "Doby" Morse, Nettle and "Bo" Jamieson.

"We are only just fair this year," said Coach Bridenbaugh to the writer today. The locals hope to take Grove City into camp. Last year the Groves scored against New Castle. The score last year was 52 to 6. New Castle will not have the same punch in the backfield this year. The score may not be so large, maybe I'm wrong, it has been the case many many times before.

You can judge the worth of a man's philosophy by the kind of sons he develops with it.

May Conflict With Loughran-

By DAVID J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—As I understand it, they are going to fix everything today so that one and all will make as little money as possible out of the Sharkey-Loughran and Scott-Campolo fights, which may lead to the title or merely to the heavyweight championship of New York and Brooklyn respectively. However, Campolo, he has been paid in the neck-o, and so Humbert J. Fugazy, who is an expert on boxing, is the neck-o, will ask the boxing commission today for a postponement of his fight until Monday next. If he gets it, he will be running virtually in conflict with the rival fight, scheduled three days later.

In this way, the chumps will have plenty of excuse for staying away from both, and, in the case of Campolo and Scott, the chumps don't need much inspiration. They probably could stay away the first time they tried.

Victorio, you see, is seeking his second postponement of the Scott fight and the folks are beginning to wonder what it is all about. They realize that, under the international rules of cricket, the Caballero can ask once more, after which he will be considered to be bowled out and a new batsman nominated in his stead. They are beginning to feel that this point is well taken and that so is the Caballero.

Gate Effect
The general effect on the gate has been most disquieting and, if they knew all there is to be known about it, the effect would be more than disquieting. It would be fatal, as it is, the expert on pains in the neck-o is said to have had his enterprise ruined, which ought to leave him thoroughly unimpressed. They play ruin-Fugazy-or-no-count in the boxing game around here.

The commission probably will give him all the chance in the world to be ruined by granting his request for a postponement. This undoubtedly will hurt the Garden's fight between Sharkey and Loughran but there are a lot of things the commission would prefer not to hurt beside the Garden's fight between Sharkey and Loughran. This enterprise has been claiming a $400,000 gate, anyhow so maybe the commission will decide that they can pay everybody off with the money they claimed they were going to make.

Meanwhile, the Muldoon-Turney trophy remains on respondent exhibition, awaiting the coming of a heavyweight redeemer. He probably will come this year, and if he never does, maybe this will be all right, too. Victorio, the beeg Caballero, had offered to lick Scott and then fight the Loughran-Sharkey winner for the Jewish Palestine relief fund, which sounded like good business. Now however, Victorio may withdraw his offer to lick Scott. He may even withdraw his offer to meet Scott.

Pleads Guilty To Slaying Trooper

Third Of Trio In Shooting At North East Enters Plea To Second Degree Murder

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Pleading guilty to second degree murder in Erie county court Monday afternoon before Judge U. J. Rossiter, Joe Invin, of Minneapolis, Minn., was sentenced to a term of five and one-half to 12 years in the Western penitentiary.

Invin was the last of the trio of killers arraigned for the slaying last April of State Highway Patrolman Russell T. Swanson of North East, Pa. Sam Bard, 25, of Minneapolis, who was convicted Saturday of second degree murder was sentenced to ten to 20 years in solitary confinement in the Western penitentiary by Judge Rossiter.

In passing sentence upon Bard, Judge Rossiter expressed regret that under the law he was unable to give him a longer term.

Sentencing of Fred Halverson also of Minneapolis first of the three to be tried and who was convicted of manslaughter was deferred because of the filing of a motion for a new trial.

Invin pleaded not guilty to first degree murder when arraigned before Judge Rossiter Monday afternoon. The count reduced the charge to second degree murder and the prisoner immediately entered a guilty plea to the lesser charge.

Death Rate During June Was Low Here
New Castle Birthrate Was High During Month, State Statistics Reveal

New Castle's death rate was among the lowest in the state during the month of June, figures just released by the Bureau of vital statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Health, show. The birth rate was also high, according to the same figures.

There were 423 deaths in New Castle during June, exclusive of stillbirths, and 66 births. The death rate was 9.9 per 1,000 population and the birthrate was 19.8 per 1,000. Only three other cities in the state showed a lower death rate than New Castle during the month. The infant mortality rate here, however, was much higher than in most other communities. There were two deaths reported from tuberculosis.

A youth who was driving the machine and another girl companion escaped uninjured.

The driver was released by the coroner pending an inquest.

Pirates Capture Double Header

Petty And Brame Turn In Two Masterful Exhibitions Of Hurling

VICTORIES HELP TO TIGHTEN RACE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—The Pittsburgh Pirates fell on the Philadelphia Nationals for a double victory yesterday afternoon with scores of 3 to 2 and 5 to 2. Jess Petty pitched against Sweetland in the first game and allowed only five hits. In the second half of the day's bill Brame allowed the same number of hits. The Phillies used four pitchers in the second game.

The double victory prevented the Cubs from clinching the pennant and helped the Pirates to tighten their grip on second place.

The "Rajah" Laughs!

Hornsby has been recognized for several years as one of the greatest baseball players of all time. Yet usually and essentially false rumor has spread the impression that the great "Rajah" is a trouble-maker, a mischief-maker and bearing toward the team spirit of the 1929 Cubs. Not a single rumor of the 1929 Cubs. Not a single rumor of the 1929 Cubs. Not a single rumor of the 1929 Cubs.

Then, too, Hornsby has the pride of genius which is vividly illustrated by the year about a batting practice where the catcher was asking each batter what his weakness was so he could signal the pitcher accordingly. The "Rajah" stepped to the plate and the catcher rattled off the usual question—"What's your tough one?"—once, twice, three times. As the story goes, Hornsby finally gave the catcher

Plenty Of Rain This Month Records At Water Works Show

Rain Has Fallen On Ten Of First Sixteen Days Of Month According To Figures

Plenty of rain has fallen during the first sixteen days of the month, records furnished by B. F. Johnson, weather observer at the New Castle Water Works, reveals.

To date precipitation of more than one-hundredth of an inch has been recorded on 10 of the first 16 days of the month, last night's downpour of .74 inches being the heaviest. The total for the month is 2.14 inches. All danger from a drought has been eliminated and the farmer's wells and springs which were beginning to dry up, are now filling up again. The average depth of the Shenango river has risen a foot in the last two weeks, showing that the ground is pretty well soaked up.

More than as much rain has fallen during September so far, as was recorded during the six weeks preceding.

Teacher Is Killed In Auto Accident

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 17.—W. Perry Day, 58, for nearly 40 years a teacher in the public schools of Karns City, died yesterday afternoon, a few minutes after he had been struck on the highway as he was crossing the street near his home.

Mr. Day, instructor in the eighth grade of the Karns City-Fairview consolidated school, was returning from lunch at his home when he was hurled to the pavement by a car said to have been driven by C. Ely.

The injured man was taken to the office of a physician in Petrolia, two miles away, and died within 10 minutes. He had sustained a fractured skull and probable internal injuries, served as tax collector and in other public capacities in Karns City.

Mr. Day is survived by his widow. He had been a teacher in the schools of the district for 40 years, and had begun his second year as instructor

Wabash Railroad Opposes Merger

Wabash Railroad Opposes Plan Of Baltimore And Ohio To Acquire B. R. & P.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Wabash railroad, which has a plan before the interstate commerce commission to link up a number of important railroads into an eastern trunk line system, Monday opposed the application of the Baltimore & Ohio to acquire control of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh.

While the Wabash is not an applicant for control of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, it is opposed to the Baltimore & Ohio getting such control "in the belief that a precipitate and premature allocation of this important strategic railway is almost certain to prove embarrassing to the commission in developing a sound and permanent solution of the consolidation problem in eastern territory."

Cannot Blind Itself. "The commission cannot blind itself to the fact that the purchase by the Van Sweringen brothers of stocks control of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, its transfer to the Allegheny corporation, a stock repository so organized as to lie outside of the commission's jurisdiction, the transfer to this corporation of the stock of the Wheeling & Lake Erie therefore illegally acquired and held by the Baltimore & Ohio and the New York Central, the sale of the Wheeling & Lake Erie stock to the Nickel Plate, and the simultaneous sale to the Baltimore & Ohio of stock control of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, are all steps taken in furtherance of the original agreement to which all of the three trunk lines are indubitably parties," the Wabash brief said.

The Wabash admitted that the three trunk lines could lawfully advocate a consolidation program, "but when they go further and agree upon specific proposals involving the use of their powerful resources in buying properties and shifting control of properties that are essential to competitive interests in carrying out a different consolidation program designed to preserve competition in accordance with vital safeguards of the transportation act, it is submitted that they very definitely bring themselves within the condemnation of the federal anti-trust laws."

No Varsity Football Team For Mahoning School This Term

No Varsity On Account Of No Ninth Graders At Mahoning School

Mahoning junior high school probably had its last varsity football team last year. This term there will be no varsity football team entered in the junior high league. The reason for this is there being no ninth grade at Mahoning junior high. The past number of years there has been a ninth grade at Mahoning school. Beginning this term Mahoning school ninth grade pupils entered George Washington junior high or Benjamin Franklin junior high school, which ever school they had chosen prior to the end of the last school semester.

There will probably be class football teams in the higher grades. Also there will be other outdoor sports activities and health work for the boys in charge of Arthur Brown, health instructor, this term at Mahoning. Mr. Brown takes the place of Cecil Morgan of last year. Miss Helen Maloney is teaching gymnastics this term at Mahoning in place of Miss Randall.

QUEEN ESTHERS The Queen Esther Society of the Mahoning Methodist church will have a meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. Will Logan on North Lafayette street. Mrs. Logan is counselor of the society.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle Cars with banners on them scurrying around the streets—candidates trying to forget what the campaign has cost them—groups of men at the polls trying to dope out the winners—election boards getting started on the long grind—more cars driving up, unloading voters—sample ballots flapping loosely in the wind—watchers passing out cards of their favorite candidates—an air of tension—and of suppressed emotion—all of it piling up for the hour tonight when the winners are shown—it's election day.

The News will show the returns tonight in front of the building on Mercer street. Your reserved seat will be waiting for you. Or if you have to mind the baby, call 4600. And remember, the polls do not close until eight o'clock, daylight savings time, which is seven o'clock, eastern standard time.
Got a card from Denver, Col., from the lexicographer of this column, Homer C. Drake, Esquire. Homer is out there fighting the Spanish-American War over again with the boys of '98. The vets of the fuss with Spain held their reunion in the Pike's Peak city and Homer was one of those present.
On the card he said he thought he might stay out there and lexicog for the Rocky Mountain News. He saw the word "preceeded" in that great western daily and figured his services were needed.

In the past few days remind some of the old timers when politics were different. Reminds them of the days when yards of red fire were burned, and oil cloth capes were worn, and fancy hats and high shiny boots. When candidates had to make a lot of speeches and the meetings broke up in a fight. And these parades are sort of an echo of these days.
Some of us are old enough to recall, hazily the Roosevelt campaign of 1904. The marchers wore wide-brimmed hats and carried canes. That was the year Alton B. Parker ran for president on the Democratic ticket. In the neighborhood in which I lived one spoke of Parker only with scorn, for he was trying to defeat Teddy.
They still did a lot of parading in 1908 when William Howard Taft was elected. Can't you still remember that monster parade down Washington street with Big Bill's picture at the head of it? And the long line of men with torchlights, throwing a weird effulgence over the dark portions of the street?
Things are done differently today, but somehow those old colorful election campaigns had their appeal to a little boy who loved to follow a bass drum and listen to fiery orators vouch for the "enemy". The enemy being the candidates of the opposing party.
Those were the days when campaign orators "pointed with pride" and "viewed with alarm", depending upon what side they were speaking. The current administration was usually wrong, and the only hope of the country lay in electing the candidate for the "deer people".
Election day was one day when a fellow got a carriage ride. If he lived but three squares from the polls, some candidate or his friends would send around a shiny, plush lined carriage, and as a boy I can remember vague hints as to some fellows paying out good money for votes.
In which respect times haven't changed so very much after all.
"This is no time to antagonize England," says Brisbane. When he talks that way, or a man bites a dog, it is news.
"Make it a crime to buy liquor," says a dry. And a hanging crime habitually to buy it from friends.
